

INTRODUCING FULL TEXT FINDER™ FROM EBSCO

With State-of-the-Art Integrated Workflows, Full-Text Finder™ Makes it Easier and Faster than Ever to Manage Holdings, and Find Publications and Articles

For your patrons, finding publications and articles has never been easier, and as a library administrator, you can finally manage your holdings in one easy-to-use administrative interface.

FOR PATRONS,
this means you can now:

Easily search for any publication or eBook. When searching for a publication, the auto-complete feature makes it easy to find any title. When conducting a search in EBSCO Discovery Service, those publications that meet your search criteria are displayed prominently in a banner, and Full-Text Finder (FTF) displays eBooks in the search results as well.

Browse publications.
Go through a list of discipline-specific titles to choose any given publication.

Search “within” a journal.
Once you find the journal, just click to search for articles within that specific title.

Go to the full text of an article.
Just click on an article to retrieve the full text.

Enjoy a new experience.
FTF delivers the predictive search experience that you expect.

FOR LIBRARY ADMINISTRATORS,
this means you can now:

Have a single interface with rapid response to manage your holdings – both electronic and print – including journals and (e)-books.

Enjoy streamlined workflows, including auto-population of resources ordered through EBSCO.

Have better search and auto-complete functionality, so you can readily find vendors, packages, and title lists.

Analyze specific usage statistics that highlight how your end-users are using Full-Text Finder.

Upload and download your holdings through bulk additions, updates, and removals.

And EVERYONE immediately experiences the benefits of your holdings management as part of the discovery experience.
