

Canadian Points of View Reference Source

Offering a balanced perspective on current events and issues

Canadian Points of View Reference Source provides rich, diverse content to help students assess and craft persuasive arguments and essays, better understand controversial issues, and develop analytical thinking skills.

Resources for Critical Analysis

Each of the database's 320+ topics include overview, point and counterpoint articles as well as a Guide to Critical Analysis. The database also contains more than 1,250 main essays written by subject-matter experts, as well as leading magazines from across the political spectrum, newspapers, radio and TV news transcripts, primary source documents and reference books.

Support for Students and Educators

Canadian Points of View Reference Source content supports curriculum standards that ask students to analyze informational texts and hone their critical thinking skills. Other benefits include:

- Google Classroom, Google Drive and Microsoft OneDrive integrations to simplify saving and sharing of content
- Text-to-Speech for HTML and PDF articles to assist struggling readers, auditory learners or those developing English-language proficiency
- Reading measures (Lexile® Measures) to address text complexity requirements
- Citation tool to help students format references
- Ability for educators to search for EBSCO content and embed links to full text, all from within their learning management system (Schoology, Blackboard, Canvas, Moodle, Desire2Learn).
- Supplementary research guides for writing position papers, developing arguments and debating

Newest topics include:

- AI-Generated Art
- Canada Day
- Carbon Capture
- Disaster Funding
- Equalization
- Gun Control
- Housing Affordability Crisis
- Long-Term Care
- Provincial Rights
- Solar Power
- Supply Chain
- Ukraine
- Violence against Female Journalists
- Waste Management
- Western Separatism