

Understanding the Past, Shaping the Future

EBSCO's high-quality, full-text resources support students' civic, social and intellectual development while building strong information literacy skills.

For High Schools

History Reference Source

Find historical reference books, magazines, journals and thousands of primary source documents to support research and instruction on U.S. and world history topics. Content comes from leading history publishers, such as Oxford University Press, and includes exclusive proprietary material from Salem Press.

Points of View Reference Source

Containing a balance of materials from all viewpoints, this database can help students assess and develop persuasive arguments and essays, better understand controversial issues and develop analytical thinking skills. Find leading political magazines, news sources, primary source documents and reference books.

Flipster

EBSCO's digital newsstand provides students and educators with easy access to hundreds of magazines — in school or at home, from any computer or mobile device. Support history and social studies curricula with magazines such as TIME, The Nation, Maclean's and more.

EBSCO eBooks

Lighten the physical load for your students with mobile-friendly e-books covering topics such as business, economics, politics, public policy, human rights, ethnicity and culture. EBSCO offers an eBook High School Collection, several history collections, and a DRM-Free Social Sciences Collection.

ABC-CLIO Databases

This suite comprises 15 social studies research and curriculum databases designed to improve students' inquiry skills and to deepen their understanding of history, contemporary issues and global cultures.

MAS Complete

Find hundreds of high school reference books, journals and magazines, including Archaeology, The National Review, The New Yorker and many more. Available as part of the Complete Online Package or on its own, MAS Complete also offers biographies, primary sources and images.

For High Schools, Continued

Advanced Placement Source

Covering a wide array of subject areas including history, politics and government, this database offers students the essential research materials to achieve academic success in honors, AP or International Baccalaureate programs. It is the only AP-focused multidisciplinary product on the market.

PrepSTEP for High Schools

This dynamic web-based platform from EBSCO LearningExpress® offers interactive resources for academic skill-building including tutorials, practice tests, e-books, articles and flashcards. The Social Studies Skills Center covers U.S. history, world history, civics and government and includes AP® and SAT Subject Tests™.

For Middle & High Schools

Middle Search Plus

Available as part of the Middle Online Package or on its own, this database contains biographies, primary sources, reference books and a large image collection. Magazines focused on history and social studies topics for middle schools include National Geographic Extreme Explorer and TIME for Kids.

Primary Search

Available as part of the Primary Online Package or on its own, this database contains popular children's magazines, easy-to-read encyclopedic entries and a vast image collection. Magazines include Ask, DIG (Into History) and National Geographic Little Kids.

EBSCO eBooks

The eBook K-8 Collection offers a cost-effective way for libraries to provide educators with full-text e-book coverage to support school curricula across all subject areas. This collection is available as an annual subscription with unlimited simultaneous access for users.

Flipster

Support middle school history and social studies curricula with award-winning digital magazines from Cricket Media — such as Cobblestone and Faces — and their supplemental teacher's guides.

Learn more about our solutions for school libraries. Download the guide.